Why don't you take up the Challenge?

The Come&C 5 Marks Challenge is based on the idea of participants challenging themselves to some form of learning or discipleship activity over a period of time linked to the 5 Marks of Mission of the Anglican Communion. The criteria for each Challenge includes an emphasis on reflection.

The 5 Marks Challenge is open to any individual or group that is already involved in a discipleship activity or any individual or group that would like to be involved in some form of discipleship.

Participants involved in taking up a Challenge will receive a ribbon pin and a certificate from the Archbishop of Dublin and Bishop of Glendalough.

Blue Challenge (Tell)

The Blue Challenge relates to the first Mark of Mission – To Proclaim God's Kingdom (Tell).

- Recall and write a reflection about an incident when you were challenged to explain your faith to someone else.
- To study some aspect of the Church tradition, either in the Creed, the history of the local parish or the diocese, and to write a short reflection on what this might mean for inspiring or deepening discipleship.

Yellow Challenge (Teach)

The Yellow Challenge is for the second Mark of Mission – To Teach, Baptise and Nurture (Teach).

- Involvement in the design and delivery of some faith teaching programme in the parish.
- Involvement in a ministry linked to preparation of parents and sponsors for Baptism, Sunday ministry with children, adult catechesis.

Red Challenge (Tend)

The Red Challenge is for the third Mark of Mission – To Respond to Human Need (Tend).

- Involvement in outreach activities with the Parish or with other social action groups (the Samaritans, women's shelter, a soup kitchen etc).
- Mobilising others to raise funds in a response to human need.

Purple Challenge (Transform)

The Purple Challenge is for the fourth Mark of Mission – To Transform Unjust Structures (Transform).

- To mobilise political awareness or activity about some issue of injustice (writing letters to newspapers, TD, etc).
- To build links with other groups who are working directly on situations of injustice with a view to supporting them in their work.

Green Challenge (Treasure)

The Green Challenge is for the fifth Mark of Mission – To Safeguard Creation (Treasure).

- Take part in some pilgrimage experience – Croagh Patrick in Mayo, Camino in Spain, Camino de Glendalough.
- Involvement in some ecological project. This might be Tidy Towns, a natural Garden Project, a recycling programme (akin to the Green Flag system for schools)

The aim is not to limit participation to these activities, but to suggest activities that might stimulate individuals to design a personal project or perhaps to take some regular activity they engage with and to see it in a new light under the lens of the five Marks of Mission.
